ICAL Light Vote Anticipated at the City

No Opposition to Mayor Whitmore, His Election Assured; Former Gov. Dever and Cong. McCormack Are Certain to Clash Over Control of Delegates to National Convention

In a city the size of Newton it is an unusual tribute to Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., that he is unopposed for reelection and assured of a second term even before the voters go to the polls next Tuesday.

The present-day problems involved in running the municipal government of almost any city are so complex that no Mayor can please everybody. Whitmore's administration, however, has been of such a caliber that no one has stepped forward to challenge him.

That presumably means that the turnout of voters next Tuesday will be lighter than usual. It is hoped, however, that Newton citizens, whatever their political convictions, will take time out from their daily routine to go to their polling places and cast their votes.

"Today, our hearts long for unity among the churches, and our minds seek ways of achieving it," Dr. Knapp said. "The difference between our church and other churches, therefore, may not be so important as we have thought. Occasional critical self-examination in light of the New Testament is good for our souls; it can strengthen our churches; and it can aid Christian unity.' The Council head, whose group represents some 2,000 churches across the state pointed to the words of St. Paul to the Thessalonians: "Do not quench the Spirit . . . but test everything; hold fast what is

Where Will You Be?

Next Tuesday an important election is going to be held in this city. It is an election which should be important to you as a citizen. The fact that there is no mayoralty contest on the ballot makes not one iota of difference. The fact is, next Tuesday is an important election. On that day voters will have the privi-lege of going to the polls and casting their ballots for members of the Board of Al-dermen and School Committee. In the first case, the members you elect to the Board of Aldermen are the individuals who will have much to do with conducting your municipal government for the next two years. In the second instance, the members you elect to the School Committee will be charged with the responsibility of continug the high standard of the Newton pubschool system.

Not an important election? How wrong you are if you make any such contention. These two bodies are most important to

Where are you going to be next Tuesday? Are you going to do your privileged duty or are you going to let the other fellow carry on. If you do your privileged duty you are participating in what is good for the ciy in which you reside. If you shirk your privileged duty, you have no complaint for anything in the future with which you might disagree about the conduct of your city government.

Voters and devoted to the Get out the vote!" How often at election time do we hear this repeated, and how often do we turn aslde and figure that elections are the business of politicians and none of our affairs—that one vote, more or less, this way or that, won't make duct of your city government.

The decision is yours. You alone know where you will be next Tuesday. Will you be in the right place-or will you be one of polls in the interest of good government and good citizenship?

Many people think of our current sysm of taxation as a "soak the rich" heme. Certainly many of its sponsors inded it to drastically cut down income from established wealth, as witness the 91 percent slice from top-bracket income the men and women you want earners. But there is no economic or moral justification for this approach.

Progressive tax rates "soak" the energetic, dynamic Americans on their way up. The rates increase with particular severity over the income range of small businessmen, the job-makers of tomorrow.

_ Political Overtones _

A hot behind-the-scenes battle may be waged within the Democratic party in Massachusetts for the right to go to next year's Democratic national convention as the Bay State's favorite son candidate for

The prospective opponents are ex-Governor Paul A. Dever and Congressman John W. McCormack. They are almost cer-tain to clash in a bid to control a majority of the votes in the Massachusetts contingent.

That is why there has been so much political hauling over the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee, with Dever masterminding the fight behind the scenes to hold his man, John C. Carr of Medford, on the job.

McCormack has not yet openly taken a part in the struggle, but former Collectors of Port William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield, who has been battling Carr for the State Committee chairmanship for the past nine months, is one of the Congressman's top political backers. Neither Dever nor McCormack is a bonafide candidate for the Presidency. Mc-Cormack might be considered for the Vice Presidential nomination, second spot on the Democratic national ticket. Dever, course, remained out of last year's gubernatorial race because of his health, and he would not accept the Democratic Presidential mantle even if he had any chance of getting it, which he does not. Dever probably would be offered a cabinet post, if Adlai Stevenson were the President.

What McCormack and Dever are principally interested in is in maneuvering themselves into a position to throw as many votes as possible to the presidential candidate of their choice. One way to do that is for either to hold the Massachusetts votes for himself at the start of the balloting and then step out at the strategic moment in favor of one of the leading candidates for the Democratic nomination.

That was the strategy Dever employed at the 1952 convention. He helped to touch off the swing to Stevenson on the ballot when the former Illinois Governor was nominated. He was able to persuade a sizeable number of delegates to follow his leadership, but McCormack was not one

Dever, of course, does not occupy the same powerful position today that he did in 1952, when he sat in the Governor's chair and was heavily favored to win reelection to a third term. All he has now is his great gift of persuasion and the prospect that he would have tremendous patronage power, if Stevenson were elect-

At the present time Dever stands

almost alone in trying to hold the line for Stevenson in this State. But his importance by no means should be underestimated. He is a very able and very deft politician. He also has quite a few followers willing to gamble that Stevenson will move into the White House in January, 1957.

But McCormack is in a very solid povention with Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas who probably will be the most influential single figure at next year's con-

try. Here in Massachusetts Congressmen such as Thomas P. O'Neill, Jr., of Cambridge, one of the State's brighest Democratic prospects, have tremendous administration to a very interesting anniversary eratic prospects, have tremendous admiration and affection for Rayburn who has guided and advised them on Capitol Hill.

O'Neill has not indicated in any way how he stands in the Presidential conflict. be three speakers of internation-But the guessing is that he would hesitate al reputation. a long time before he broke away from Rayburn's leadership. There are many other Congressmen like him throughout

The Democratic picture here in Massa chusetts is still confused and muddled. The fight for the State Committee chairmanhas been before the courts since last April. Burke has been stalled and stymied II. He is to speak on internation at every turn in his attempts to obtain a ruling on the election held last June 4

Unless the matter is settled by the start of the next year, the pre-primary Presidential balloting next April may see a knock-down fight that will split the Democratic party in this State into warring factions.

Former President Truman obviously did not give ex-Governor Stevenson much encouragement when the two met a few days ago in the Hotel Blackstone in Chi-

Observers reported that Stevenson was grim-faced and curt after a private five-minute conference with Truman and that it was quite evident that the two had not enjoyed any happy reunion.
When Truman recently visited Albany and implied that he favored Governor Avereil Harriman, the Stevenson camp described his action as merely that of a "gracious guest of a gracious host."

It did not appear that Stevenson took the same philosophical view of the situation after talking with Truman personally in Chicago.

Political experts are speculating to what has caused Truman to cool off towards Stevenson. So far they have not been able to come up with any answer. One surmise is that Truman knows that the Missouri delegation, in which he will be a member, will go to the Democratic convention pledged to some other candi-

That theory does not sound too plausible, however, because Truman presumably would control the delegation of his home State and would have influence enough to swing it to anyone he desired.

Earlier this year, Truman declared on at least four occasions that Stevenson was his choice for the Presidential nomination. Now Truman's attitude is that he will not declare himself for any candidate until the Democratic national convention.

Under these circumstances, the inference being drawn is that when he does declare himself, it will not be for Adlai. Certainly, he has lessened Stevenson's chances by withdrawing his support. Truman is too shrewd a politician not to realize that.

Leaders in both political parties will begin mapping their plans for 1956 as soon as the local election battles are concluded and out of the way.

Supporters of Governor Herter will swing into action in the near future to expand the Presidential beam already started in his behalf. There is no question but that Herter now is being given serious consideration in all parts of the country as a Presidential possibility. The first step by his friends probably will be to precipitate a court case to establish his right to run for the Presi-

That may be done in any one of several ways, as has already been outlined.

One of the issues to be resolved on the Democratic side is whether any Democratic State convention will be held next year. There is no doubt that the Republicans will hold a convention to block out their State ticket for '56, but there is some uncertainty whether the Democrats will

Some influential Democrats favor a State convention; others are vigorously opposed to the idea and maintain that the nomination of the party's candidates should be left to the party's voters in a

That is a matter which eventually will have to be resolved by the Democratic State Committee, if and when it ever settles its own internal difficulties and holds another meeting. At the moment the State Committee exists in name only.

It should be noted that all the machinery which is needed to quickly report and locate fires is available here and that it is constantly tested to make sure it is in proper working

Strategically placed and adequate housing facilities for fire equipment is important. Since 1949, and with Chief Corcoran's you drive in Newton you can see a new fire house. These new buildings have enabled the Department to consolidate some of its areas, thus cutting inefficiency and saving the taxpayers' money.

It is comforting to know that as our fire stations are now laid out, it is possible for equipment to be at a fire in not more than four minutes and in many cases two or three. An added safety measure is our cooperative agreement with the sur-

By George Lawrence Parker

No Presidential campaign in our country's history has ever started so far ahead of time as this one which will reach its climax in November, 1956. About thirteen months before the date of election, the political kettle is already boiling and the steam rises high with both serious thought and with undue vituperation and wrangling.

THE REGRETTABLE illness of President Eisenhower as a human event which has saddened all hearts has not been able to turn back the unavoidable tides of politics. As I write these lines it seems evident that politics s not wholly a bad word, nor are all of its methods to be wholly condemned. It is also evident that our democratic system and its machinery has fairly well stood up under a gruelling test. We should not forget the sun-lighted spots in our dark shadows and confusions. The highest obligation of every American citizen is to look beneath the troubled water of the surface until we discover the deep current which alone can give safety to our national adventure. For, in its essence, democracy is not only a matter of laws, legislation, courts and techniques but a matter of personal character, a matter not only of free enterprise but a con-cern of single and individual values existing in every man, woman and child. We cannot make a good country out of inferior people, nor a contented country out of evil and discontented people.

THERE IS NOT a problem before America today which could not be at least progressively solved if only the quality of our Americanism could and would set itself to work with a good will to avoid the bad work of a bad will. Nothing counts for anything except a good will. Our country is founded on a message and a faith that proclaimed "Good will to men" or in other words, "Peace to men of good will."

The approaching Presidential election will not, of or by itself produce a nation of angelic creatures who at once wake up in a new and purified world. But the coming election can be a genuine step in our progress toward a new and better world .And it can take this genuine step toward betterment no matter which party gets the most votes. Such a statement makes us catch our breath. Such a statement sounds like threatened and exaggerated idealism, sounds like "flossy talk" or mere sermonizing. But it is not exaggeration nor sermonizing to suggest that, to the best of our ability, we must ask some of the following questions if we wish to make the next thirteen months of real value in our national life.

FIRST, SHALL WE CREATE more and better schools for our children? Second, shall we show to youth Hillel Director a world fit to live in by means of parents who themselves are not "adult delinquents"? Third, shall we remake our entire prison system until legal punishment ceases to be mere legal crime? Fourth, shall we be bold enough to declare that war is an outmoded instrument for human sur-

These questions will not be on the ballots in November, 1956, but the whole world knows that exactly these questions will make up the background of our decisions. The coming election will be a world election. We shall make a great mistake if we call it just one more event in Ameri-

Dear Sirs:

I just had to let you know how happy we are about selling our gas range so quickly and sasily through your "Want-Ad" column. The only trouble was we had six customers all at once and it was so difficult to decide which couple to sell it to.

All in all, you meet such nice people through the Transcript!

Old Guard Republicans Laying Plans to Control Conv. Vice Pres. Nominations Usually Dictated by President

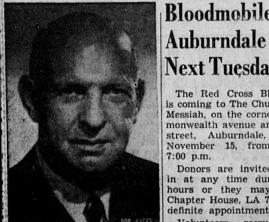

Tucked away in a news despatch from Washington this week was a paragraph reporting that Senator Joseph R. McCarthy will be a favorite candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination in his home State of Wisconsin next year and that he will also run as a Presidential candidate in the Massachusetts and Nebraska primaries.

The despatch went on to say that McCarthy will not actually make a serious bid for the Presidency but that he will seek a measure of control over a big bloc of votes at the GOP national convention.

McCarthy, it was stated, may also make a drive for support in Illinois, if his friend, Senator Everett Dirkson, does not stand as a native son aspirant in that State.

Senator McCarthy's intention of entering the Presidential primary here in Massachusetts would have except the challenge:
.."Not a single traffic accident ploded with bombshell effect, if he were as prominent in the national picture today as he was two years ago. during the 24 hours of December

The fact is that McCarthy's potential strength in a Bay State Presidential primary should not be minimized, because he still has a tremendous following here, although there may well be some doubt whether he does not have more admirers in the Democratic party than in the GOP (Continued on Page 4) · POLITICAL OVERTURES ·

The Helping Hand

Newton is a community with a tradition of social responsibility and a reputation for giving when confronted with need. Let's keep up the fine reputation we have in the metropolitan area and stand behind our United Red Feather drive. This is the most important campaign to all of us—it is for our own people. Who would not give first to a friend in need, a neighbor, or to his own child? Perhaps your child is one of the children in Newton who was served by one of the Children's or Youth agencies; perhaps someone close to you was among the regidents of our city. you was among the residents of our city aided by Red Feather hospital and health services. Everyone knows where charity or giving must begin.

And there is another side to the story. Speaking "as an old-time solicitor for good causes, whose finger has grown calloused and sore from pushing doorbells," New York advertsing executive Bruce Barton pointed up the good Red Feather funds do for the people who give them:

"If in addition to gathering their gifts, you can persuade (the members of your community) to exercise some curiosity as to the destination of their gifts, if you can lead them to make some personal contact with the lives that are helped by their generosity, then you will indeed have rewarded them richly.

Darkness Means Danger

Dark clothes camouflage and make walking at night doubly dangerous.

In November, when days start getting short, even very young children are some-times out on errands or returning home after dark. It's especially important at these times for children to be dressed in white or light-colored clothing so that they can be seen by motorists should the children have to cross the street or wander into the roadway.

Persons who do not drive cars have no conception of the dangers at this time of the year which the motorist faces as he drives along during the early evening hours. Visibility at this time of the year is exceedingly bad and despite every pre-caution, a driver of an automobile must be exceedingly alert and pedestrians who are not watchful, are in danger of sustaining serious injury.

Motorists, as a whole, realize the driving dangers at this time of the year. Pedestrians unfortunately, or at least a large number of them do not. Every warning calling attention to this condition at this time, is timely and should be

Political Overtones -

In a test such as would occur in a Presidential primary, however, with the people dividing their votes between several dif-ferent candidates, McCarthy might be able to top almost any opponent that could be named-with one exception. McCarthy could not defeat a gentleman named Christian A. Herter.

McCarthy's plans, incidentally, are part of a drive now being mapped by right-wing or Old Guard Republican leaders to try to bottle up delegate votes for the 1956 GOP national convention.

Senator John W. Bricker of Ohio has served notice that he will assume a favorite son status in the Buckeye State, if President Eisenhower is not to be a candate for reelection.

Republican Senator Leader William F. mixed-up California situation which has almost as many prospective Presidential contenders as the other 47 States combined.

Governor J. Bracken Lee of Utah will seek to go to the Republican conclave as the favorite son choice of his State and with the votes of his delegation stored se-curely in his pocket.

Dirksen probably will follow suit in Illinois, and if he doesn't, McCarthy prob-

These are but a few of the Old Guard leaders who were pushed into the background by President Eisenhower but are now moving forward to appraise their chances of controlling the national Convention.

The fact is that their prospects are not overly bright, but in the event of a split in the Eisenhower wing of the party, they might well control the balance of power which probably is their real objective.

There is widespread conjecture among the profesisonal politicians as to how long President Eisenhower will wait before announcing officially whether he is or isn't going to run for another term.

It is widely assumed, of course, that the President will accede to the wishes and pleas of his family and step out at the end of next year. Some observers point out that this was his intention even before he suffered his heart attack. They believe it is merely a question of time when he will formally and officially remove himself from the Presidential contention.

from the Presidential contention.

A new wave of optimism has developed among Ike's supporters as a result of the satisfactory recovery he has been making from his coronary occlusion, and a fresh crop of rumors and reports have come out of Washington during the past few days that he might run again, after all.

That probably comes strictly under the heading of wishful thinking. It is highly improbable that President Eisenhower would consent to stand for reelection or ould consent to stand for reelection or that his family would allow him to do so without offering terrific opposition. But the speculation and uncertainty will con-tinue right up to the time that Ike him-self states exactly what he is going to do. Meanwhile, the longer he withholds that announucement, the more uneasy some of the Republican leaders will become. The Old Guard chieftain, in fact, will not wait long after his return to Washington before setting their own plans in operation.

President Key Figure in Naming Mate

Political observers generally are now predicting that one result of the attack which felled the President will be that both the Democratic and Republican national conventions next year will choose their via proposal has been thoroughly studied, the League frequently takes a public position in support or in opposition, in accordance with the views of the majority of the membership.

Presidential candidate is a mere formality which comes at the end of the convention, with only a handful of delegates on hand to carry out the wishes of the man nominated for the Presidency. Sometimes the Vice Presidential candidate is nominated by acclamation.

The last time there was any real battle for second place on a national ticket was in 1944, when many of the Democratic leaders rebelled against renominating Henry A. Wallace. Even then the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, bowing to their that we do have some con-wishes, gave the nod to Harry S. Truman. scientious people working wishes, gave the nod to Harry S. Irunan.

That was not the wide-open fight that would have been staged if FDR had maintained a complete hands-off policy, but Wallace had built up enough strength to whether the city for the good of the people as was indicated by the resignations submitted by the two directors of said as sociation.

President Eisenhower in 1952 personally selected Vice President Nixon as his running mate, and Adlai Stevenson did the same thing in the case of Senator I have lived in Newton all my Sparkman. Few, if any, of the GOP delegates had any thought of voting for Nixon as the Vice Presidential nominee until the running mate, and Adlai Stevenson did word came from Eisenhewer's hotel suite as to what he wanted them to do. Even fewer Democrats considered Sparkman as Vice Presidential timber before Stevenson

But when the phone rang from Washington, with Truman on the other end of the line, McCormack philosophically accepted it like a good political soldier as one of the developments that comes in politics, put aside his own aspirations and fell in line behind Barkley.

In 1952 Thomas E. Dewey made a trade with Earl Warren, then the Governor of California and the favorite son candidate of the Golden Gate State. In return for Warren's action in swinging the return for Warren's action in swinging the California delegation behind him, Dewey gave Warren the Vice Presidential nomination.

That is the way it always has been at tional conventions, and that is the way it is likely to continue, notwith-standing the temporary reaction caused by President Eisenhower's heart attack or the feeling of Republican leaders who don't like Nixon and wish that they had never placed him in a position where he is but a heartbeat away from the Presidency and the strongest candidate now on the horizon for the GOP Presidential nomination next year.

Politics being what it is, the man who achieves the Presidential endorsement is always going to have some preference in the selection of his ticket mate, and at the precise moment that the Vice Presidential nominee is being chosen his preference is going to have the force of political law.

Some man may come along some day who wins the right to run as his party's candidate for Presidency and then states that he has a completely open mind on the Vice Presidential situation and will accept anybody the delegates wish to give him.

If that happens, however, a great many professional politicians will swoon in a body from the sheer shock. They have become too accustomed to swallowing hard, holding their noses and voting as they are told to vote.

Everybody wants to be somebody. Deep in the heart of each one of us there is a wish to be known, a yearning to be understood, a longing to have friends who are not always criticizing us, business associates who trust us and above all a family who value us for what we are even if they know our faults

If we scan the whole map of our human contacts we find that the desire to be known has both its good and bad aspects Political boss Carmine DeSapio claimed that he found susprising support for Governor Harriman in California as he reported this week on his trip to the West Coast to beat the political drums for the New York Governor who has finally decided that he is supporting himself rather than Adlai Stevenson.

But under its best aspects the desire to be known is so natural, so human, so intimate and personal that it turns out to be a characteristic of an immeasurable high quality. It has about it a tender, homelike and loyal touch. It is the wish to be at home in a baffling world, to snuggle down and rest in safety Matthew Pames of Cheviot, O., was told that his excuse was "first class original" after he testified in court that original" after he testified in court that original after he testified in the large after he testified in t

In a long lifetime among all sorts of people I have learned to value most the unknown people, the unknown soldiers of life whom no one could identify for they lived unknown and died unknown.

We may not agree entirely with Emily Dickinson, our New England poet of a hundred years ago, but the unshakeable truth of her little poem is a tonic for all of us:

"I'm nobdoy, who are you?

These women who take these bags fill them with items (all prescribed on a list from State Federation headquarters) and they are returned to the committee, who see that they are delivered to hospitalized veterans in time for Christmas. The things they contain are little things — but useful or cheerful: Christmas cards to send, playing cards, handker chief, comb, cigarettes, etc. The committee also collects items for use by the Newton Recreation Department — sev-

But the committee was of the caliber to find something to do — and it did. It called itself the "Community Service Committee," and it began to give service. It has never ceased. It never will. Such vigor, such unselfish, happy energy does not die, but goes on from generation to generation, transmitted to the succeeding mem bers of the group. It is good to know this. It is good to see these women, vital, cheerful, hard at work, making their corner of the world a little better than it was when they came in, and subtly, all un-consciously, enriching themselves. With even the slightest wind these small fires can be whipped into a sea of fire that could easily cause a conflagration in any section of the city. Today we are launching one of our very important drives, the enrollment drive. This will continue from November 1 to November 9.

Monday, November 1, there was a "Kick-off" luncheon for the Red Cross representatives. The guest of honor was Mrs from our Newton Kendall Chapter House.

November 2 was "leaflet" day. At that time, leaflets explaining the activities that take place during the enrollment drive were given out.

"Penny Day" was November 3 and 4. This, as you can tell by its name, is when the pupils contribute as many pennies as they can to the fund. November 7, tags with the

The village blacksmith made utensils for the people in the village and saw how they made a horseshoe. We bought tons of old-fashioned candy in the General Store. The Gun Shop contains saws, traps, locks, and other equipment used by early New Englanders The people in New England liked to read newspapers. books, and pamphlets. The infectuous disease we the interest of better health call tuberculosis has had many names in its long history. The Greeks had a word for it—phthisis—which means a conput first which means a constant of the interest of better health as the interest of better health. The interest of better health as the interest of better health as the interest of better health. sumption. The early Hindus called it by a word with the same meaning, as did the peoples of many other countries, both ancient and modern. City Now Total

"Consumpition" was a good word to describe the wasting away of the body caused by disease of the lungs. But it didn't cover the situation when the disease attacked other organs of the body. The disease mas-queraded behind many names, and many different symptoms.

It was way back in the seventeenth century that medical men first discovered that "tubercles" or tiny nodules in the lungs were always found in con-sumption. It took many years to discover that these tubercles were typical o fa whole group of conditions that doctors nad thought were seperate diseases The name "tuberculosis" did not come into common use un til the beginning of the 20th century. Pulmonary tuberculosis, the old "consumption," is still the most common form of TB. But the germs that cause tubercu-- tubercle baeillican at tack any part of the body. The disease affects hundreds of thousands of our fellow Americans. It is estimated that 1,200, 000 people now require medical supervision because they have TB in either active or inactive form. Close to 100,000 people develop this contagious disease

The tuberculosis associations throughout the United States are working to break this seem-ingly endless chain of infection that is so costly in money, in human suffering and in lives. Through the annual Christmas Seal Sale we can all help bring closer the day when the word "tuberculosis" will be obsolete. This column is sponsored, in

Christmas Clubs Again Pass Billion Dollar Mark!

This month the largest Christmas check ever will be sent to the largest number of Christmas Club savers when 6600 financial institutions distribute one billion, one hun-dred and thirty million dollars to twelve million, five hundred thousand Christmas Club

Edward F. Dorset, president of Christmas Club a Corpora-tion, announced today that for the fourth successive year annual savings in Christmas Club had passed the billion dollar mark! Commenting on the continued growth of the Club, Mr. Dorset emphasized the contribution that is made to the national economy when such a huge sum is distributed to the American public. Individual security will be increased when nearly a third of the total is redeposited in permanent sav-ings accounts. Debt will be reduced when a substantial slice of the billion is used to pay accumulated bills. Department stores and merchants will feel the boost when those 121/2 million members start their Christmas shopping. And Santa Claus will seem more real than ever when Johnny and Jane find those bikes and dolls under the Christmas Tree.

The 1955 payoff is the largest in the history of the Club and represents an increase over 1954 of 50 million dollars (4.6%) with three hundred thousand more members. The average check this year amounts to $90.40 for each member.

Of the 6.600 institutions 154 had clubs in excess of $1,000, 000 each. As in past years, New York leads with 2,493,559 members and $236,334,189, followed by Pennsylvania with 1, 903,190 members and $171,478, 524 and then New Jersey with 1,146,514 members and $129,-

In 1910 when the name, idea and plan of Christmas Club was originated, there were less than $7 billion in all savings deposits in the nation, and these were divided among only 15 million savers. In 1954 savings totaled 160 billion dollars with nearly 100 million savers. Many millions of thesesavers made their first banking contacts through Christmas Club, Mr. Dorset said.

Not all of that billion, one hundred thirty million dollars will go into retail trade; some of it will go right back into savings, but all of it will boost the nation's economy. Surveys made by Christmas Club a Corporation, indicate that it will be used as follows: Xmas purchases $280,200,000 343,500,000

One vote cast in the Massachusetts Senate by Senator John E. Powers may have cost him election as Mayor of Boston.

That was the vote which killed Governor Christian A. Herter's $125,000,000 bond issue for the construction of new highways throughout Massachusetts.

A Glorious Record

November 16, 1955, marked the open-ing of the 49th consecutive, annual Christmas Seal Sale throughout the United States. The 3,000 affiliated tuberculosis associations throughout the nation know and are proud that the public accepts this appeal to support their fight against TB as a traditional part of the Christmas season.

The very first "Christmas Stamp," the forerunner of our Christmas Seal, was originated in Denmark in 1904 by a postal clerk named Einer Holboell. In 1907, a woman named Emily Bissell adopted Holboell's idea and issued a stamp to raise funds to save an open-air tuberculosis shack in Wilmington, Del. Instead of the $300 needed to keep the hospital going, the first Christmas Seal Sale raised $3,-000. Since that first seal was sold by Emily Bissell, our Annual Christmas Seal Sale has meant a saving of more than seven million lives! We now have 3,000 tuberculosis associations throughout the continental United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. We are each supported solely by our one annual appeal in our individual territory at Christmas time. We in turn support our state associations and the National Tuberculosis Associa-

In keeping with the democratic principles behind the organization of the voluntary tuberculosis associations, the Christmas Seal Sale is also based on a democratic tenet; every American must have the right to decide if he will give, what to give. Payroll deductions or other forceful measures for obtaining contribu-tions are not a part of the Christmas

The Christmas Seal and its annual sale also embody the democratic principle of community self-help. TB is a community problem. Wherever a voluntary tuberculosis association exists there is evidence that the community has accepted its responsibility and has organized to do something about it. This spirit of self-help is strengthened each year in the home.

This spirit of self-help is also evidenced each year by the increasing number of Newton residents who buy and use Christmas Seals. Every Christmas Seal used on a card or package represents the interest of someone in the community and his support of the work of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association. Each sheet of seals purchased represents dividual and the community against tuberculosis.

The history of the Christmas Seal is a glorious one; it has meant much in the saving of lives, the rehabilitation of victims of tuberculosis, and the prevention of new cases of this dread disease. In the future of the Christmas Seal lies our hope for the eventual eradication of tubercu-losis, still the number one killer of all infectious diseases.

An Example To Remember

The first crop had been bountiful in The first crop had been bountiful in the new, strange land; the perils of its wilderness, while present still, were no longer unknown. So the Pilgrims offered prayers of thanksgiving on the day of the feast, girded spiritually and materially against all dangers.

As we today follow, in effect, their example in the festive turkey, so should we be girded as they were that first Thanksgiving, against all who imperil us and our heritage of freedom.

heritage of freedom. It is from our Pilgrim Fathers' grateful prayers in the wilderness that our present Day of Thanksgiving derives. They set an example in word and deed which we well might remember at least once a year. Even before the Mayflower landed at Plymouth they had written in their Compact: "We whose names are underwritten have undertaken, for the glory teachers were with us. There of God, to establish in Virginia the first colony for the advancement of the Chris-

Political Overtones — (Continued from page 1)

A great many persons wanted that bond issue approved. They wanted nothing to interfere with or impede the progress of the State's road-building program. They wanted better highways on which to drive their automobiles. The line between Boston's two mayoralty opponents was clearly drawn on that question. Mayor Hynes came out publicly in favor of the passage of the loan. Senator Powers accomplished its defeat. It's never possible to estimate exactly what such an action means in terms of votes in the ballot boxes. But the guessing is that that one vote cost Powers the support of some automobile-owners.

Out of the 240,000 persons who went to the polls for Boston's municipal election, it is not impossible that 10,000 of them were influenced to ballot against Powers because of his stand on the highway bond issue.

A shift of 7,000 votes would have resulted in the election of Senator Powers and the defeat of Mayor Hynes.

Democratic Trend Shown in Many States

Massachusetts was about the only State in the Union which gave Republican leaders even the slightest reason for comfort as they viewed the results of last week's election results.

A strong Democratic trend showed up in the returns in Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Connecticut, New Jersey and New York.

It indicated rather clearly that the Democratic swing apparent in the elections a year ago is still continuing.

Some political observers are jumping at the conclusion that last week's election straws in the wind mean that no Republican candidate other than President Eisenhower can win the 1956 Presidential

There is no evidence at this time to support any such drastic judgment as that. The fact is that the Democrats aren't any better off than the Republicans when it comes to picking a Presidential standard-bearer.

Messrs. Stevenson, Harriman, Kefauver and the other Democratic prospects all have political weaknesses that will militate against them, just as do the Republican possibilities, if Mr. Eisenhower is out of the picture.

ed setbacks in some areas that cannot be dismissed lightly. Even though the Democratic party in Kentucky was deeply and sharply split follow the suggestions of those solutely no livestock that we everyone else knew only Geras a result of the bitter feeling caused by that went on the trip before,— could see. There was a good man, so I guess it wasn't conthe primary last summer, "Happy" just keep going and hope they deal of "Ami Go Home", and sidered heresy. We spent about the primary last summer, "Happy" Chandler was elected by the biggest majority ever given a candidate in the Blue Grass State. Chandler isn't that popular and wasn't that strong a candidate. His plurality had to be due to a Democratic might be coming our way. The

Out in Indiana in the section of the called us because he had heard road, with lots of turns, and at country where the Republican party has that we were making the trip, one corner there was a large its basic strength, last week's elections He suggested that we make the increased the number of Democratic Mayors from 30 to 73.

GOP Mayors were ousted from office in several major cities, including Evans-ville, which is in Vandenburgh County, listed by the experts as a political weathervane district.

Vandenburgh County is one of the districts carefully studied each Presi-dential year by the political pundits because it usually indicates how the nation is going. Last week it saw a tremendous rise in Democratic strength.

Down in Connecticut the Democrats showed a big increase over their 1953 filled up with gas, and stopped Army camp to look like. The

In Pennsylvania the Democrats carried Beaver County for the first time in history. Some wards in Philadelphia that have not been Democratic since 1990 slipped out of P.

slipped out of Republican control.
Substantial Democratic gains were re ported in New Jersey, where three Republican State Senators lost their seats to Democrats. The big Republican country of the State, where the GOP had a margin of 55,000 votes in 1951, was held with instructions as to what to by the GOP by a margin of only 9,000 do if we had trouble. In New York State the Democrats captured such cities as Schenectady, Troy, Ithaca and Auburn.

All this, of course, does not mean that the Democrats are certain that recapturing the White House next year. It seems to indicate that the political tide is flow. ing the White House next year. It seems to indicate that the political tide is flowing toward the Democratic side, but tions.

the trend could change in a period of 10 months, as it has in the past.

One thing it certainly does mean, however, is that in sections of several states the Democrats have won offices that carry considerable patronage and now have an opportunity to rebuild their organiza-

Here in Massachusetts the voters ousted Democratic Mayors and elected Republicans to succeed them in Pittsfield and Brockton. That does not represent any staggering upheaval, but it provides some slight solace for the GOP.

One thing the returns clearly signify to this observer is that the Republican party next year will need a leader of great popular appeal. Whether it can produce one if President Eisenhower retires to Gettysburg is something that time alone will determine. Governor Herter shapes up as the most promising prospect to this onlooker.

Democratic Party in State Torn with Strife

Democratic leaders here in Massachusetts have been so busy fighting among themselves that there is some uncertainty as to how serious their own wounds will be when the time comes for them to do battle with the Republicans.

The Democratic party in this State was not in a position to take advantage of the Democratic tide that was running in 1954, and it doesn't appear to be in any better shape now than it was 13 months ago.

What the party needs is a strong leader with a firm hand. That need conceivably might be supplied by either Congressman John W. McCormack or Senator John F. Kennedy, but both Kennedy and McCormack are too absorbed with their duties in Washington to devote the time and attention required back vote the time and attention required back help is strengthened each year in the numbers of volunteers who prepare the mail for the annual Christmas Seal Sale in Newton.

This spirit of self-help is also evidenced each year by the increasing numdenced each year in the Robert F. He has been pulling strings for eight months to prevent William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield from replacing John C. Carr of Medford as chairman of the Democratic State Committee, even though Burke in the last test of strength clearly had the support of a majority of the committee members.

Dever antagonized the followers of Mayor Hynes by backing Senator Powers in Boston's recent mayoralty campaign. While Hynes is a quiet-mannered man who doesn't go in for poli-tical vendettas and is usually quick to forgive, he certainly would not be en-thusiastic about rallying behind Dever's leadership.

Meanwhile, several different Democratic politicos have their eyes on their party's nomination for the Governorship. Governor's Councillor Patrick J. Mc-Donough of Dorchester is an avowed candidate for the gubernatorial endorsement and appears to be running a front race at the present time.

Former State Treasurer Foster Furcolo is definitely in the contention for first place on the 1956 Democratic State ticket.

Robert F. Murphy, who was defeated in 1954, would like to lead his party into in 1954, would like to lead his party into battle again next year. And District Attarney Garrett H. Byrne is being importuned by his followers to step into the gubernatorial fray.

Meanwhile, no one is certain whether the Democratic party will hold any State convention next June to block out a State talet. The design on whether a convention of the state of the state ticket. The decision on whether a convention will be called will rest with the State Committee members.

In the past nine months the Democratic State Committee has held only one meeting. That was called for last June 4 under a Supreme Court agreement for the supposed purpose of electing a chairman. It was thrown into a bedlam when

Beyond the Realm of Argument!

This is the season when conversations turn easily and often to motor cars.

And, in almost any gathering, you're likely to find a wide difference of opinion about the relative merits of the year's automotive offerings.

Until the talk turns to Cadillac!

Here is one car concerning which most motorists have a meeting of minds. And never before has Cadillac left so little room for argument as in 19561

Certainly no one could behold the new Cadillac without recognizing it as the "car of cars". Its beautiful, graceful, flowing lines . . . its regal bearing on the highway . . . and its long, low silhouette are simply too significant to misunderstand.

Surely no one could ride in a new Cadillac and not agree that it is the Standard of the World. Its new fabrics and leathers are rich and luxurious almost beyond belief . . . and its interior appointments have been crafted with a jeweler's skill.

And we doubt if anyone could drive a new Cadillac and not understand that it is the finestperforming motor car of all time. Its great new engine is a revelation in power and performance ... and its new Hydra-Matic Drive is incredibly smooth and responsive.

Truly, the evidence on the side of Cadillac has never been more apparent than it is today.

Why not come in soon-and see for yourself?

We'll be delighted to introduce you to Cadillac's great new styling . . . and to arrange a demonstration at the wheel . . . and to acquaint you with the new Sedan de Ville and Eldorado Seville.

You'll agree, we're certain, that Cadillac for 1956 is beyond the realm of argument!

FORMERLY known as the Nonantum Boys' Club, its operations were limited and support of its program came from a few benefactors.

Three years ago, steps were taken to reorginaze the club program in line with standards set up by the Boys' Clubs of America, a national organiza-tion with 412 member clubs. Spearheading this movement was Jerry R. Angino, voluntary president of the club's board of directors. ### Create Vistas Or Peep-Holes Through Trees In Winter Time

As leaves of trees drop in fall, new vistas come into view. A lake in the distance. A winding hillside road. A beautiful old landmark. Perhaps a gnarled ald apple tree or stately pine.

It once was fashionable to screen homes by trees. But trees grow tall and wide in a few years and become a wall, not a screen, shutting out pleasant views.

Today, says George M. Codding, vice president of the Bartlett Tree Experts, vistas are the vogue. In suburbs and country, home owners can create all-year-round vista pictures through their trees.

When trees are bare is the time to decide what view should be featured in a vista from a picture window or terrace. There are three kinds of vistas: The breath-taking panorama view if the house is located on a hilltop; the under-type where limbs of tree are raised or trees opened so one can look through or under the foliage; and the object-type which features a focal point in the distance.

All require artistry and imagination. Tree men or vista cutters know which trees to cut down or head back, which to leave in their natural setting. The right tree must be left in the correct place. Once a cut is made, it never can be put back. The one "don't" is never creat a flat view. A vista must look as if no man passed that way to disturb the wonders of nature.

A vista must look good 12 months of the year. Greens of hemlock and pine can be blended with deciduous trees so that in mid-winter the vista will be as charming as in summer. An ugly telephone pole must be scheened the year 'round.

Vista cutting permits the home owner to see and still not be seen. It gives his trees and his perspective a new look.

Vistas can be cut any time of the year. Cutting them in liberal group insurance plan. the views to be achieved can be readily seen. Next spring when new growth begins the hemmed-in wall of trees will be gone and the new vista will seem as if it had been there always.

ing ourselves that TB no longer kills people as it used to. We are curing people of tuberculosis, but we are not doing so well at preventing spread of the disease. Today, 400,000 Amercans have tuberculosis. Approximately 100,000 NEW cases are reported each year. Estimates of the number of people who are infected with TB germs range from one-fourth to one-third of the American people.

Although voluntary tubercu-losis associations throughout the United States are credited with the 90% decrease in the TB death rate since 1904, there are still from sixteen to seven-teen thousand deaths from TB in America each year. One more American develops TB five minutes and one more dies from TB about every 26 minutes. Obviously constant vigilance against tuberculosis is necessary. There must be increased efforts to make full use of the weapons that can defeat tuberculosis. The weapons are edu-cation of the public, chest Xrays to find cases of tuberculosis, legislation to make the best in treatment available to all patients, programs in reha-bilitation to help patients get back on their feet and stay there, and research for ever better methods of preventing and treating the disease. These are some of the many ways in which tuberculosis is being fought in Newton by the New-ton Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Political Overtones —

McDonough made a bid for the gubernatorial endorsement in 1954. But he made a late start. Like many other Democratic politicians, he assumed that ex-

Governor Dever was going to run.

When Dever finally made an unequivocal announcement that he would not be a candidate McDonough stepped into the field and made an exceptionally strong

Even though he campaigned for only about six weeks, McDonough just missed getting the nomination for Governor. He led on the first three ballots at the been selected chairman of the Democratic State Convention, and the slightest break would have turned the tide in his favor. The lineup of candidates at the State convention was so large that a deadlock developed, with none of the contenders able to draw a majority of the votes. Ex-Governor Dever finally stepped in to break the logjam and swung the sup-porters of Thomas H. Buckley of Abington over to Robert F. Murphy of Malden.

That gave the endorsement to Murphy and defeated McDonough. But when the candidates were running strictly on their own on the first three ballots, Mc-

Donough led the field. There is not much question but that McDonough might have been able to prevent any deadlock in the early balloting at the convention, if many of the delegates had not pledged themselves before he entered the contest.

The Councillor is taking no chances on a repetition of that situation. Having been handicapped by a tardy start in the fight for support at the 1954 convention, he is endeavoring to get a jump on his adversaries in the 1956 race.

At the present time there is some uncertainty as to who McDonough's opponents at the convention will be-if there is a convention.

Former State Treasurer Foster Furcolo of East Longmeadow is considered virtually to be a candidate for Gov-ernor, and Robert F. Murphy of Malden, the Democratic nominee for Governor in 1954, is likely to be in the race.

Neither Furcolo nor Murphy has made any announcement of his intention to run. But their friends declare that both will be in the fight.

Furcolo, according to reports from western Massachusetts, already has lined up support for himself in that section of the State.

An attempt was made to persuade Murphy to seek election as Mayor of his home city of Malden. He told the persons who approached him that he preferred to wait for next year's State election.

Murphy might well have been elected Mayor of Malden, if he had chosen to make the fight. It is doubtful that he make the fight. It is doubtful that he would have passed up that opportunity for anything less than another shot at the Governorship.

As matters stand at this time, Mc-Donough would be a favorite over either Murphy or Furcolo, both of whom were defeated for election in 1954.

The biggest question mark in the Democratic fubernatorial picture is District Attorney Garrett H. Byrne. A number of his friends have been trying to induce him to seek the Governorsh and they declare that there is a good chance he will do so.

Byrne, of course, would be an extremely strong candidate, if he were to enter the race. Despite the claims of his friends, however, there has been no evidence on his part of any intention to run.

One element of uncertainty that may prove far more important than many politicians now realize is the question of whether the Democratic party will hold any State convention next year to endorse a slate of State-wide candidates.

A good many guesses have been made on the subject, but the fact is that no one really knows whether any Demo-cratic State Convention will be staged. That decision will rest with the members of the Democratic State Committee who have met only once in the past eight months and then in a futile attempt to resolve a dispute over the chairmanship of their body.

John C. Carr of Medford, who is acting as chairman of the committee pending the outcome of court proceedings, is apparently proceeding on the assumption that will be a convention. Recently he notified the committee of the breakdown of delegates that would be allocated for the convention. He has no authority, however, to schedule a convention or to make any plans for one unless the State Committee members vote that one shall be held.

Carr's notice of the breakdown of delegates for the 1956 conclave brought a sharp rejoinder from Committeeman Beinard F. Cleary of Taunton that the State Committee members had not even he'd a meeting, much less taken a vote on the matter. Cleary declared that he, for one, is opposed to any convention.

Former Collector of Port William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield, who is battling Carr for the State Committee chairmanship, has not disclosed whether he favors a convention. A sizeable number of com-mittee members would follow his leadership.

Should no convention be held, it would mean that the fights for Democratic nomination would be settled by the Democratic voters in the popular prima next September.

Civil Defense Reports Fallout Would Sink

If the United States should ever be attacked, people living near sea coasts, lakes and large rivers might find it safer man the boats than take to the Information available to the Federal Civil Defense Adminis-tration indicates that evacuees in a covered boat on deep water vould not only have a fairly effective cover from deadly radio-active fall out, but would be exposed to less actual radiation This is because much of the fallout, consisting of radioactive material ranging in size from tiny grains to the finest ash, would sink deep enough in the water to be harmless at the surface. When this "hot" material falls on land, very little of it can wash or blow away, and the rest remains on the surface. Radioactive Particles Radioactive particles falling on a boat would have to be washed off frequently. Tarpaulins which can be mounted on many open boats would give some fallout protection, but per-manently covered boats would be better

Fallout results from material christmas was mainly a religious observance . . . which is a thought to keep in mind. dangerously radioactive, and then sucked high into the sky by an atomic or hydrogren exsion, Dangerous amounts of vertise — the smart business this material can fall to the sur-face as far as 200 miles down-wind from a blast.
